

Jüri Gymnasium

Near Tallinn, In Jüri town.

School slogan: „Today, better than yesterday“

Consists of three main buildings: Elementary school, middle school and high school.

The school is also linked up with the local library, gym, music school and pool.

North-West of the school is an old oak forest called Lehmja tammik.

Jüri:

A town near Tallinn, the capital.

Fun facts:

The oak forest (Lehmja tammik) was a holy forest for the ancient Estonians, there are many legends .

The oldest iron smeltery was found near a pond in the park next to church.

The old Vaskjala church was one of the oldest in Estonia, in 1884 it was raised and replaced with the Jüri church.

In 1739 the first bible was translated to estonian by the churchmaster.

Traditional Jüri folk costume.

Jüri klunker – a local folk culture festival.